Introduction

This policy outlines the teaching of Relationships and Sex Education at Sallygate School and is written to reflect requirements detailed in the Department for Education Statutory guidance for Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education 2019.

RSE is a key aspect of Personal, Social and Health Education at Sallygate School and is embedded into the school PSHE curriculum, written in line with the PSHE Association programme of Study. Relationships Education and SRE are taught across the school, in both primary and secondary departments of the school.

RSE at The Sallygate School

Pupils at The Sallygate school typically have:

- been excluded from one or more schools
- have had long periods away from school at some time
- been educated at home or in a unit, probably on a part time basis
- low self-esteem and self-confidence, both academically and emotionally
- experiences of early childhood trauma and attachment difficulties

Due to this, pupils often arrive with gaps in their knowledge and understanding, requiring them to learn at a lower age-related stage than they would in a mainstream environment. With this is mind, The Sallygate School curriculum is divided into stages, rather than age related school years so that pupils access their learning at the level that is relevant to them, allowing them to learn the content that they need to in a safe and supported environment and providing opportunities to bridge identified gaps in learning.

Where pupils are learning at a lower than age related stage, consideration is given to learning that is required to understand how their bodies are growing and changing, as this can be further along than academic understanding.

Delivering RSE

The teaching of RSE for younger pupils provides a foundation of skills, knowledge and understanding that can be further built upon as the pupils progress through the school. The foundation curriculum is divided into four sections:

- Families and friendships
- Safe relationships
- Respecting ourselves and others
- Growing and changing

The curriculum for older pupils builds on the learning that has taken place in the younger years, with learning in the oldest classes embedding the knowledge, understanding and skills in preparation for life.

This curriculum covers:

- Diversity
- Building relationships
- Health and puberty
- Discrimination
- Identify and relationships
- Respectful relationships
- Intimate relationships
- Healthy relationships
- Addressing extremism and radicalisation
- Communication in relationships
- Families

RSE is delivered through PSHE lessons, Social and Emotional Communication lessons and through focused sessions aimed at areas of arising need, identified both in school or the wider community. RSE allows pupils to explore issues, ask questions and to be able to go on to make positive, informed choices, so that they can be confident, lead healthy lives and understand how their bodies function.

Assessment and Monitoring

Teachers assess written work in RSE and through observations of pupils engagement and contributions to class discussions. Teacher marking shows the progress that has been made and the progress needed to further their knowledge and understanding (see assessment policy for details). Teachers track the learning of pupils using the PSHE tracker, which is developed using the PSHE association's programme of study. Trackers are updated at the regularly, allowing for gaps to be identified and for pupils progress and development to be clear.

Right to Withdraw

Parents and carers do have the right to withdraw their child from some or all elements of Relationships and Sex Education delivered as part of the statutory provision. Before a child is withdrawn, a member of the Senior Leadership Team and the PSHE lead at The Sallygate School will discuss this with the parent or carer and where appropriate, the child will be part of that discussion. The aim of this is to ensure that the parent/carer is aware of the purpose of the curriculum that the child is being withdrawn from, the benefits of the learning and the possible detrimental effects on the child. After this process has taken place, the parents request to withdraw will be respected, unless there are exceptional circumstances. As, per the Department for Education Statutory Guidance for Relationships Education, RSE and Health Education, parental/carer decision to withdraw remains in place until three terms before the child turns 16, after which, the child can choose to receive RSE education, and The Sallygate School will arrange for this to happen within one of those three terms. Records of withdrawal from RSE will be kept by the Sallygate School as a measure of good practice.

Safeguarding and Confidentiality

Safeguarding is a key part of RSE and RSE lessons play an important role in preventative education. Part of RSE, is to equip pupils with the skills and knowledge to be able to safeguard themselves. If teachers at The Sallygate School have concerns about specific pupils during RSE lessons, they must follow the school safeguarding procedures.

Pupils will be made aware of ways in which they can ask questions and discuss issues with teachers in a confidential forum, although will be made aware that if there is cause for concern, this will be dealt with in line with safeguarding procedures.

Statutory Guidance

The statutory guidance that has informed the planning of the RSE policy and curriculum is:

Department for Education – Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education – statutory guidance for Governing Bodies, Proprietors, Head Teachers, Principals, Senior Leadership Teams and Teachers.
